5. The main entrance to the Kuskovo Palace is made in the form of a high six-column portico with the monogram PS incised on the central pediment. Two gently sloping sandstone ramps lead from the entrance and end with sphinx figures on their parapets. The Palace was intended solely for receptions and this accounts for its layout and décor.

6. Legendary soccer team, FC Barcelona, pulled off one of the greatest sports comebacks of all-time in a game against rival Paris St. Germain. The problem for Barcelona was that they lost the first game 4-0. That meant that they'd have to win by 5 goals in the next game ... against a tough team, in a game where final scores are often more like 1-0.

7. You probably haven't given much thought (or even known) about the garbage in space, floating just above Earth. But it's there. And there's a lot more of it than you'd think. Space junk is basically stuff left over from satellites and rocket launches, all man-made things. The problem in addition to there being a lot of it is that each piece travels at about 17,500 miles per hour!

8. Spiders eat mostly insects. They're natural enemies for the most part. Without spiders the insect population would be out of control. And since insects eat plants and trees we have a lot to thank spiders for. «Spiders thus make an essential contribution to maintaining the ecological balance of nature,» said Dr. Nyffeler. He's been studying spiders for 40 years!

9. While many people are focusing on Mr. Macron's landslide win and characterizing Ms. Le Pen's defeat as a big one, others are pointing out that Ms. Le Pen's party, Front National, did the best it ever has and that there's growing support for her ideas. France has a population of 66 million people and in terms of land is a bit larger than the state of Texas.

10. At a restaurant in Madrid, Spain, regular paying customers come for breakfast and lunch. In the evening, the restaurant is reserved exclusively for the homeless. The money that's made from the meals paid for earlier in the day is used to provide free dinners for homeless people later that night. The restaurant seats 50 people and each night the restaurant feeds 100 homeless people.

Living in a city

Living in a city has both advantages and disadvantages. On the plus side, it is often 11_____ to find job, and there is usually a choice of public transport, so you don't need to own a car. Also, there are 12_____ of interesting things to do and places to see. For example, you can eat in good restaurants, visit museums, and go to the theatre and to concerts. What is more, when you want to relax, you can usually find a park where you can feed the ducks or just sit on a park bench and read a book. All in all, city life is full of bustle and variety and 13_____ will never feel really bored.

However, for every plus there is a minus. For one thing, you might have a job, but unless it is very well-paid, you will not be able to afford many of the things that there are to do, because living in a city is often quite expensive. It is particularly difficult to find good, cheap accommodation. What is more, public transport 14_____ sometimes crowded and dirty, particularly in the rush hours, and even the parks can 15_____ very crowded, especially on Sundays when it seems that every city dweller is looking for some open space and green grass.

- 11 1) more easy 2) easier 3) easy 4) easiest
12 1) much 2) a lot 3) many 4) few
13 1) your 2) yourself 3) yourselves 4) you
14 1) will be 2) are 3) is 4) am
15 1) become 2) became 3) becomes 4) have become

Расшифровка записи:

S: Hi, Jim. How are you getting on?

J: Oh, hi, Sandra, it's so nice to see you. I'm OK, more or less.

S: You look so deep in thought. What's up? Can I help you with something?

J: Actually, that might be not that bad of an idea. You know, it's my sister Anna's birthday next week.

S: Don't I know it, we're best friends.

J: That's why I need your expertise. I really want to give her a good present, a really good one, but I don't know, what I can give her.

S: Right. So you've stopped quarreling over every little thing, I'm happy to hear that.

J: Yeah, you know, all these conflicts were because of me. I'm a stubborn guy, you know, but I have finally realised I've been doing the wrong thing and I just want to say sorry.

S: Why don't you just say so?

J: I have, it's just I wanted to do something more to make up for my behavior. You know, she's been grounded several times because of me, and staying at home for weeks is not a nice thing.

S: OK, it's a good decision anyway. So how much money have you got?

J: Enough. I'd been saving pocket money. Besides, you know I have jobs now and then and I get paid.

S: I see. Well, she's short on cosmetics and she'd be happy to get some. I can help you choose or you can just give her a gift certificate and she'll go shopping herself.

J: No, I don't think it's a good idea. It won't leave a lasting memory. Eventually she'll throw these things away because they've expired or just finished.

S: Hmm. So maybe you can give her a collection of her favourite films or books or CDs? That would be a memorable present.

J: Yeah, that sounds like a great idea. The only problem is I don't know which ones are her favourites and these shops don't have gift certificates as a rule.

S: You forgot about me. I can go shopping with you or I can write a list and you'll be fine shopping on your own.

J: I'd be grateful if you made up a list. Shopping can be time-consuming and you've already helped me so much. I don't want to take up more of your time.

S: It's not for you, it's for my best friend, remember? Besides, I need to go shopping anyway. I've got to buy a present too.

J: OK, I give up on that, when shall we go?

S: How about tomorrow night?

J: Sounds good to me. Give me a ring, OK?
